your online worship learning community

Dear Pastor and/or Board Member,

Your worship leader(s) have desired to request Membership for your church at WorshipTraining.com – and thus our reason for contacting you.

We would like to ask you to encourage and support them in this step. They will be learning worship theology, values, history and more through our online courses, live encouragement calls, Media Library, downloadable studies and so much more.

Our Church Solutions for worship training are world class, accessible, creative and values-packed. We customize them to fit your need. Some of those who contribute live or via media to our training are: N.T. Wright, Paul Baloche, Andy Park, Tim Hughes, Brenton Brown, Kathryn Scott, Matt Redman, Jeremy Begbie (Duke University), Casey Corum, Don Moen, David Ruis, Rita Springer, Jeremy Riddle and many, many others.

At the end of every 4 week online course or live training event, all participants create a Creative Project, directly meant to serve your local community in some way as a result of their worship learning. We promise to bring solid values and development to all your leaders. Worship leaders, musicians, pastors, artists, small group worship leaders, children's worship leaders - every leader in your church - will benefit.

To help you understand who I am, I have worked for over 20 years as a worship leader, senior pastor, recording artist, communicator and worship songwriter, largely in the Vineyard movement. I count many of today's most visible worship influencers among my close friends. I have trained worship leaders, teams, artists and pastors in the arena of worship for those decades, and have co-authored the book Perspectives On Worship: Five Views with Broadman Holman Publishers.

We developed the Essentials Online Courses and WorshipTraining.com in an effort to bring higher education right into the local church for worship communities. In addition to online training, we run a Masters program as well.

We are calling the global church to worship development. We would love to strengthen your leaders, with you.
